

Beneficiary Bank Information

SWIFT CODE:	Sometimes also called a SWIFT number- is a standard format for Business identifier codes (These codes are used when transferring money between banks.
Sort Code: numbers.	The sort code, which is a six digital number, is usually formatted as three pairs of .
IBAN:	Stands for International Bank Account Number, which you can use when making or receiving International payment.
Institution Name:	(Canadian) Name of the Financial Institution that we are returning the funds to.
Institution Number:	(Canadian) Financial Institution number (Bank Code). This is a designation number is generally 4 digits in length.
Transit/Branch Number:	(Canadian) A 5-digit number comprised of your 4-digit branch number, followed by a number indicating the geographical location of your branch
Account N umber:	Primary identifier for ow nership. The account number is where you are asking UNBC to depositthe funds to .
Street Address:	Address of the bank that UNBC is depositing to.
City:	City of the bank that UNBC is depositing to.
Country:	Country of the bank tetry of tdicating t b.009ad ()Tj ETe2T1 9.96 Tfl q 0 0 612 792 re W'